Word was received that Rev. and Mrs. Collins Sawhill, of Cleveland, had shipped their household goods to Chattanooga, Tennessee, and from there they would go to Birmingham, Alabama, where Mr. Sawhill's son-in-law resides. CONVENTION NEWS

The Ontario Association of the Deaf held their twenty-second biennial convention at the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, from 30th June to 4th July. Everthing passed off harmoniously, and many of the delegates are of the opinion that this convention was one of the best ever held.

The local committee are to be heartily congratulated on the efficient manner in which arrangements were made for the comfort and entertainmet of the visitors.

On Saturday, the opening day, 196 delegates registered at the hotel, and in the evening there was a reception and short business session.

Divine services for both Catholics and Protestants were held, the Rev. Georg Almo was assisted by the following ladies, who signed appropriate hymns: Miss Ada James, St. Thomas; Mrs. Harry Grooms, Mrs. H. Whealey and Mrs. C. Wilson, Toronto; and Mrs. H. J. Lloyd, Brantford.

The second business session was held on Monday morning, and was honored by the presence of Premier Bennett, who expressed his good wishes for the delegates and his appreciation of the work the Association

Mr. Bennett said he realized the good such an association was doing for its members, and was very much in sympathy with their efforts to better their conditions.

Controller J. E. Stanley Lewis, as Acting-Mayor, tendered the Civic welcome and gave the delegates "the Key" of the city. The Controller attended for Mayor Nolan, who was out of the city.

Mr. Ross Gray, of Ottawa, acted as interpreter for the visitors.

Mr. A. Wright, of Ottawa, thanked them for attending and for their kind words of welcome.

Mrs. Howard Lloyd, of Brantford signed "The Maple Leaf," for which Mr. Bennett bowed his appreciation.

Mr. H. Grooms, president of the Association, also welcomed the delegates.

Mr. A. Wright spoke of the Workmen's Compensation Act and its relation to deaf citizens. He said that some had thought the act debarred many deaf people from employment. This was not so, but some employers were hiding behind it if they did not want to employ deaf people.

Mr. Grooms spoke of the right of the deaf to drive cars, and said that the Province of Quebec seems to be the only one which does not grant licenses to the deaf. This had started in 1909, when a deaf man was killed in an auto accident, through no fault of his own. It is thought that since that time deaf people in Quebec have not been applying for licenses, but that if they did so now, they would probably be granted them, as all other Province are doing so now.

At noon, a group photo was taken of the delegates, on the térrace of the hotel, and afterwards the visitors were taken by motor buses to Britannia Bay, where a picnic and sports were held. Suppers were served at 5 and 6 P.M., and at 8 P.M. there were swimming races at the pier. The picnic and sports were greatly enjoyed by all.

On Tuesday, July 3d, business sessions were held morning and afternoon, when officers were elected.

Those nominated for President were: Mr. A. W. Wright, Ottawa; Mr. N. L. Gleadow, Hamilton; Mr. R. McDougall, Limoges; Mr. Duclos, Toronto. Mr. McBrien, of Peterboro, was also nominated, but asked to be excused.

Result of voting was: N. L. Gleadow 62, A. Wright 59, Mr. Duclos 32, R. McDougall 10.

Mr. McBrien was re-elected Secretary by acclamation.

Mr. H. J. Lloyd, Brantford; Mr. C. Ryan, Woodstock; Mr. Duclos, Toronto. The results were: Lloyd 176, Duclos 33, Ryan 15.

Directors elected were H. Grooms, R. McDougall, C. Ryan.

Hamilton was selected for the next convention in 1936.

A banquet was held in the Chateau Laurier as the closing function of the third day of the convention. There were 186 delegates present and seven toasts were honored. Mr. G. B. Huband, of Ottawa, was toastmaster.

After grace had been said by the Rev. Georg Almo, the toast of "the-King" was proposed by Miss Ada James. Murray Brigham proposed 'Canada'' and H. J. Lloyd responded. Other toasts were "Ottawa," proposed by R. Dallaire and responded to by A. Wright; "The O. A. D.," proposed by N. L. Gleadow and responded to by H. Grooms; "Alma Mater," proposed by T. L. Brigham and responded to by R. McDougall; "The N. F. S. D.," proposed by J. R. Tate and responded to by A. Chicoine; "The Ladies," proposed by J. Patrick and responded to by R. E. McBrien.

Deep appreciation was expressed by the delegates for the kindness and understanding with which they had been treated by the city, by the press, the management of the hotel and by the public generally. At the closing business session a resolution was passed unanimously by the Association, demanding that the sign language be retained and used in conjunction with the bral method in the education of deaf children. The Association is averse to "pure oralism" as being much more slow and often not of any real aid to the deaf. The combined system of speech and signs is considered the best means of instruction.

Resolutions of thanks for having helped to make the convention one of the best yet held were passed to the following: G. Huband and A. Wright, Ottawa; City of Ottawa for grants towards expenses; Ross Gray, Miss Mabel McDougall, Miss Edna Dalinelle and H. J. Lloyd, for serving as interpreters; H. E. Grooms, as returning president of the executives; J. L. McCraken and W. E. Schroeder, for legal assistance; the Chateau management and staff, the Ottawa newspapers for the publicity and the residents of Ottawa, for liberal aid in making the convention a success.

HAMILTON

Mr. R. Dallaire, of Ottawa, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Gleadow last week, and on Sunday, 8th July, accompanied by them and Mr. Eddie Hayes, visited the new Cathedral of Christ the King and admired its many beauties.

Mr. Dallaire called on Mr. and Mrs. W. Hacking and had a pleasant time with them.

Mr. Howard Breen and two daughters motored with friends to Toronto on 30th June and stayed with relatives there over the holiday.

staged a "surprise picnic" in Dun-durn Park for Mr. Jack Harrison, on Carol Mae. "Daddy" Wellbaum is the occasion of his birthday. All present had a good time and Jack received some useful gifts, with which he was well pleased.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hacking, Mrs. H. Breen and Messrs. N. L. Gleadow and Andrew Bell were the only visitors from Hamilton who attetuded the convention in Ottawa.

Our picnic on Dominion Day was a great success; in fact it had a record-breaking attendance. were deaf from Toronto Shetford, London, Belleville, Elmira, Hesson, the car line to work. and other places.

The games and races were most successfully carried out. The lunches were plentiful, and a most enjoyable time was had by all who attended the picnic.

Many of the children enjoyed the lake at the park, and those who had never seen the park before were catch.

Those nominated for treasurer were greatly impressed at its beauty and St. Ann's Church for the Deaf advantages.

As Mrs. L. B. Moynihan resigned from chairmanship of the picnic, she says the success of the picnic is due to the able work of Messrs. Newton Black, William Hagen, Thomas Williams and Absolom Martin, who worked most diligently.

Mr. Robertson, of Toronto, came to Kitchener, riding all the way on his bicycle, then went to Stratford.

The funeral of Stanley B. Nahrgang was held at two o'clock the same day and was largely attended.

After the funeral, Mrs. George Elliott, of Toronto, returned to her home, and Mr. Robert McKenzie, his daughter-in-law, and grandson were on their way to Haysville when they collided with another car. The following clipping from the local paper gives the details:

Five people were injured last evening in an automobile collision at Petersburg. They are Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Kropt, 54 West Avenue, City; Robert McKenzie, of Harley, Ont.; McKenzie's four-year-old grandson, Charles, also of Harley; Mr. McKenzie's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mabel McKenzie, of New Durham. While all were shaken up and some of them were cut and bruised, none of the five is regarded as being seriously hurt. They are in St. Mary's

Robert McKenzie's face was injured, and it is believed his nose is broken. The young McKenzie boy suffered a concussion, but is resting easily today, while Mrs. McKenzie's injuries were confined to a number of painful abrasions.

Police say the collision occurred when Kropf, driving east on the highway at Petersburg, pulled to his left to drive into a gas station. Both machines were badly smashed as they came to a stop in the ditch on the north side of the road

Evangelist Elsie R. Peters and her husband, Grover W. Peters, pastors and founders of the First Full Gospel Church for the Deaf in Los Angeles, Cal., have been attracting a large number of deaf people to their temporary church here.

Sister Peters speaks to four classes of people at the same time. Although a hearing woman, she uses far more flexible and smooth sign language than an average deaf person. Her proficiency in the use of the sign language did not decrease a bit when she spoke to both hearing and deaf people at the same time.

Sister Peters is a charming lady with pleasing manners. She is very fond of deaf people, as they are of her. As her tour carries her to many cities, she will make many more friends there and elsewhere.

The summer season is noted for the happy absence of cross dates of various organizations. For the benefit of the Fair visitors who may want to include some deaf picnics in their itinerary, there are four known ones already scheduled: Sunday, July 22d, Beidler Silent Club, Miller Beach, Ind.; July 28th, Lutheran Church for the Deaf, in an outlying suburb; Saturday, August 4th, Chicago Division, No. 1, Natoma Grove, 6510 Milwaukee Avenue; and Sunday, August 26th, Chicago Division, No. 106, Lander's Grove, Lincoln and Oakton, Niles Center, Ill. The dinner and all-around good at Sunshine Community Hall July 1st was a great success. The dinner was very well cooked, proving untrue the old adage that too many cooks spoil the broth. The cooks were Mrs. Lorenz, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell, Mrs. Burgett, Mrs. Stuard, and last but not least, that great culinary stand-by, James Scanlon. The huge beef roast and brown gravy, potatoes, new peas and carrots, lettuce and tomato salad ice-cream and four kinds of homemade cake, delicious coffee and real cream, would have done credit to professional cooks. And what is more, there was plenty

After dinner, all except the cooks went outside to enjoy the pastoral scenery-hillocks of hay, a contented cow in the background, and some of the boys throwing horseshoes in the foreground. All very rural and peaceful. By and by Mr. Lowell came out and the boys had a good time playing right, not one woman taking the least bit of interest in the sport. WHEN we are familiar with the important office that education assumes in preparing children and youth for the serious affairs leading to self-control and self-support, we may be able to reach a safe estimate of its value and the extent of its accomplishment. To hundreds of deaf boys and girls, who have completed their school courses in the past month, there has opened the new life of self-government to a certain extent. Important consequences depends upon their finding a means of support through a useful craft.

When they come to realize what education and training seek to present to them in the line of life their environment may suggest, they will value the actual benefits the schools have supplied. In the world they have now entered they are called upon to work out the method for their individual existence. In these days when nothing goes unchallenged, necessity may oblige the inexperienced to alter previous inclinations and habits, in order to meet new condiions which demand fortitude and strength of character. Here serious questions arise as to the extent and limitation of the function of the residential school for the deaf. Is a school responsible for shaping the character of its graduates, conditions I seek to remedy and I moulding their dispositions, remov- believe something can be done, if the ing any vices they may have, and deaf put on a united front, free from should be assessed, to cover the activiproviding strength in soul, mind and body? The schools are usually held responsible for such personal indivi- deaf as they are set in their ways and dual improvements, but actually they cannot be expected to assume any such responsibility.

When preparing the pupils for life the schools provide the opportunity, but the proper use of this opportunity is beyond the school supervision; it becomes the task of the former pupil. The school points out the road, gives safe directions, but it cannot be expected to supply mental ability-to all lines of endeavor, and if it consupply them with understanding-nor wholly overcome a lazy disposition, replacing it with diligence; nor can it fully equip them with a correct set of morals. Many imagine that the schools can perform all these miracles in an individual, and when deaf adults go wrong their schools and teachers are held responsible. It and so who can say what the morrow country over.

needs to be remembered that heredity, environment, carelessness or indifference to probity, all have much to account for in the shaping of human nature, and these have greater influence than all the advice and devoted efforts of the most accomplished teachers.

As Mr. Hauner, of Czechoslovakia, has already been admitted to the Port of New York, it would seem that foreign delegates to the N. A. D. Convention will have no trouble landing at New York.

Outlook For Deaf Employment

As viewed by Charles F. Schneider

As I view with something like alarm the signs of the times, particularly in regard to the employment of the deaf, I wish to air my views as others have done, before the coming convention Should others agree with me, the material contained herein is available as I have "no axe to grind," but merely wish to be of service to my fellow deaf men and women.

I base my views on my experiences in the hearing world which covers eighteen years and in the deaf and business world thirty years. My opinion of the hearing person's reaction to meeting deaf-mutes can be put into three groups. The first group merely gives them a haughty stare and proceeds to forget their existence. The second are amused and not overintelligent and are inclined to nudge each other and say "look at the dummies," and then laugh it off. The third are also amused, but have more intelligence, and that intelligence tells them you are human beings and must work and eat. These are the ones who will give you jobs and help you in other ways when requested. The in other ways when requested. deaf-mute can never know these things for he has never been in the hearing world, and because I have I am writing to try and show him what in my opinion he should do for his future welfare and for those who come after him. My own experience in the business world has shown me that you can land a job, but you can only go so far, and no further. The deaf men I have known these past thirty years are scarcely any better off than they were when I first met them. Of course, in a few cases you will find some who are on "Easy Street," but what I wish to stress is that it was not done by their own efforts. Family influence paved the way to good jobs and family wealth was left to them. These I know how hard it is to make them see something different. We are livcan predict what the future will bring, but, of this I am sure, if the present is any criterion, the deaf will find it increasingly more difficult to obtain

With all the new machinery and labor saving devices coming out every day, man power has been curtailed in tinues, the deaf will find themselves regulated to the rear or be given some menial task that will barely provide enough for existence. It may even come to sterilization as one deaf man predicted, so that they cannot mate on a producing basis. It may sound fantastic today, but each day is bringing something that was unheard of or will bring? This is the hand-writing I see on the wall, relative to the deaf and the present convention of the N. A. D. should devise some plan at once to strenuously combat present conditions and be prepared to do likewise with future ones

The methods I would pursue can be summed up in a five-point plan.

- 1. Demand that the 'schools teach the children from beginning to end that they are a minority in this world and always will be. For that reason, loyalty to each other is essential and public behavior should be above reproach. After at least eight years of school life, surely they ought to be able to write a simple sentence withcut garbbling the "Kings' English," as the majority do now. Demand that the schools find a solution to that problem for when they come in contact with hearing people and put out their desires in such a peculiar formation of words they are a decided detriment to the deaf as a whole.
- 2. The schools are for the deaf, therefore demand that the deaf be given preference in all jobs where hearing is not essential. In regard to the teaching staff-where a deaf man or woman has the proper education and training, most decidedly he or she should be given preference.
- 3. Do not choose those among you that have led sheltered lives among their own kind to lead you. They are in no position to know the every-day problems that confront you in the outside world. Rather, I should say, not because I am one of them, but, because I believe it to be for the best -choose those who have been in the hearing world a part of their lives. Their knowledge of how the hearing person acts and talks will be a decided help in gaining things.
- 4. It has been proven that the deaf can land jobs, but, they are no better off then they were fifty years ago. I believe it will always be the same unless they go into business for themselves. If the N. F. S. D. is capable of running an insurance business why are not other groups capable of running any other kind of a business? Yes, I know several have been tried and through petty jealousy of those concerned they cracked up. That brings you back to my article No. 1. If the deaf cannot be convinced they must stick together for the good of all, it is a hopeless task. Regardless of what others may say I am firmly convinced this is the only way the deaf will ever advance highly in the buiness world. With a number of concerns scattered over the managed exclusively by country, the deaf, they will come in closer contact with employers and those employers, seeing the kind of material the deaf are made of, will assuredly be glad to hire others like them.
- The N. A. D. should create one solid organization of the deaf in the entire country. Get in touch at each graduation of the schools and advise the graduates it will be to their beneis problematical whether anything can ties of the organization. All of those be done with the present adult who refuse to join should be made to understand they will have to shift for themselves in all emergencies. In the larger centers of deaf population ing in a changed world and no man an employment office should be created and all those worthy should be helped either by immediate employment or financially until employment is obtained. Those who fail to profitable employment at the years do so should be black-listed and no further consideration should be shown them unless they pay the amount owed. A firm policy like that should be made and adherred to. In this way a powerful organization can be formed, and where they are numerous they can be a force politically, thereby paving the way for things to be desired.

May I express the hope that some of these ideas or better ones may be found worthy of consideration by those in charge of the convention so that a definite plan may be formed even undreamed of in the old days, as a lasting benefit for the deaf the to Mr. Franklin Thorniley recently.

When it comes to keeping secrets Mr. and Mrs. William Rowe take the cake. You will notice I say Mr. and Mrs., as they have been married nigh on to two and one-half years without anybody having an inkling of it, save Rev. Warren M. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe were married on January 13th, 1932, and during that time have lived apart, he with his parents in Germantown and she (her maiden name being Sarah Atkinson) at the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, where she was employed as a waitress. Why attempt so weakly to interfere with the carefully made-up plans of make the convention the greatest ever, At the June Frat meeting of Omaha shall be no doubt so successful.

Too bad, we do say, that a fine suggestive article from an Akron, O., writer had the heading "N. A. D.

any interest in an otherwise good idea with such a heading.

Why the slight at those who for years have striven with might and main to keep our Association as they honestly believed it should be? The slight is, in other words, a false accusation at the majority of the deaf who possess the ability sans the support to efficiently uphold our cause.

Good, indeed, is it that the scene of the most crowning battle is to be right in New York City!

State Associations might prove valuable co-operating aides of our grand association as the Akron writer believes. We have no doubts regarding the possibilities.

But unless the State associations are governed by a president and officers who can honestly strive to carry out the wise and timely instructions of the grand officers, the majority of the deaf will certainly revolt and quash the state associations.

State associations should not be used to glorify the schemes of presidents and their followers to smash or lower the standard of any grand officer or the Association's policies, while neither should be the target of such disgracing attacks.

If State associations would conduct their policies along honest lines' instead of trying to mislead the deaf into false fears such as "barring deaf-auto drivers by proposition of a great legislator, who proved to be but a smalltown lawyer who laughingly wrote: 'What would my friends say were I to submit a proposition my position will never permit—I myself am stone deaf in one ear.'

The Akron writer was an officer of an association that was quashed good and plenty long ago in Cincinnati, O., and if we can have his assurance that he is working independently from such a circle, we shall gladly cooperate with his effort in trying to give the deaf the benevolent assistance we know has long been his ambition.

A writer out West suggests the Citizen be made official organ of the N. A. D. Heaven forbid! The Association needs no such organ. Our belief is that an efficient publicist should be elected and given authority to attend to the publishing of all news pertaining to our Association in all papers for the deaf everywhere.

We do believe the delegates at convention will select right man as future leader-a man who knows how to lead in an efficient, business-like manner, the man who can prove he should have been elected at the Buffalo convention.

The aim and purpose of the N.A.D. is to fight for the cause of the deaf, irrespective of race and creed, and the greatest good it can acquire in a beneficial co-operative way is by the weeding process, and the human part of the knockers to accede to the denow cease their vainless onslaught for Word just reached us that a prominent deaf man driving eastward. presumably to the convention, stopped at an Eastern cafeteria in such an intoxicated condition that the parties trying to handle him remarked, 'No wonder they are trying to bar deaf drivers from highways and by-ways." "Why the unnecessary hazardous driving?" we sensibly ask. We cannot dare to insensibly take such a risk that might wreck the pleasure of the auto-driving deaf.

Our best wishes go to those who shall wisely chose future officers to lead our association as it so richly deserves to be.

We do not try to dictate. We believe the deaf have the intelligence to decide for themselves. Why should we insult by dictating how one should H. ARTHUR McCANN.

MARCUS L. KENNER, Chairman.

Just a Word

N. A. D. CAR PARKING

The Police Department will reserve the north side of 31st Street, from 7th to 8th Avenue, for the purpose of parking about 40 or more autos. Entrance to Penn. Station must be kept clear. N. A. D. cards, which will be furnished, must be displayed on windshield.

A special left-turn will be permitted to N. A. D. cars at 33d Street and 7th Avenue only.

Police will be on duty from 8 A.M. to 7 P.M. to keep north side of West 31st Street clear for N. A. D. parking only. Every possible courtesy will be extended and it is hoped that no one will abuse this unusual privilege. No street night-parking is allowed.

REGISTRATION

The Registration fee has been fixed at $1.25, aside from regular membership fee of $1. Should this appear somewhat high to some, it must be remembered that the expense involved in conducting a New York City Convention is correspondingly higher. Moreover, there are several privileges and cocnessions granted to registrants, which non-members will miss. In the end, it's cheaper to join and register. Registration Booth at Hotel Pennsylvania will be open all day on Monday, July 23d.

BANQUET AND ENTERTAINMENT

The charge to members is fixed at $2.75 per plate, which represents the minimum and includes a vaudeville show by professional and home talent. Should there be any possible reduction, the Committee will most assuredly do so. It is expected that Pathe News and other movie concerns will feature the Banquet events."

Paintings and art objects by the score are arriving from foreign lands and all parts of the United States. This is the fifth exhibition of the Salon International des Artistes Silencieux, but it is the first to be held in this country. With the splendid co-operation of the Roerich Museum, it bids fair to be a most successful event. The Roerich Museum, founded by Nicholas Roerich, is open free to the public daily. Its founder and honorary president is represented in its collection by more than one thousand The International Art paintings. Center of the Roerich Museum is devoted to the dissemination of the art of all nations. In 1930 it exhibited the work of Ramon de Zubiaurre and in 1931 that of his brother, Valentin. The Roerich Society is the parent organization which centralizes the international activities of the Societies. Due to the enthusiasm and generosity of the Roerich Museum, the deaf artists will have their works displayed in appropriately beautiful rooms.
